Store Investments

Since Food Lion launched its "Easy, Fresh and Affordable. You Can Count on Food Lion Every Day!" strategy in May 2014, the grocer has brought enhancements to its Charlotte stores including product expansion, new registers, price investments and enhanced service. When the remodels are complete, customers will be able to take advantage of key benefits, which include:

- Fresh, new stores designed to be easier to navigate and shop so customers can get in and out of the store quickly.
- Expanded variety and assortment that is relevant to our customers in each store, such as more local products, natural and organic selections and healthier snack options.

These remodels are expected to be completed in stores on a rolling basis between May and October 2016. Food Lion will continue to launch enhancements across all of its nearly 1,100 stores in 2016, as well as remodel additional markets over time. Charlotte is the fourth area to be remodeled. The company remodeled 162 stores in the greater Raleigh, N.C., area in 2015, along with 76 stores in the greater Wilmington, N.C., and Greenville, N.C., markets in 2014.

Investment in the Charlotte Community

Food Lion's investment is also extended to the local community. The grocer has committed $1.5 million to the Second Harvest Food Bank of Metrolina's warehouse expansion. Through this new facility, Second Harvest will provide the food bank with new capacity to broaden its already robust work to end hunger in the 16-county region it supports in the greater Charlotte area. The expansion will also offer access to healthier, fresher food so those in need can nourish their families and meet basic needs to help them get back on their feet.

"As we announce a significant commitment to remodel our 142 stores to better serve our customers, we are proud to be able to also help Second Harvest better serve the Charlotte community," said Meg Ham, president of Food Lion. "Through the new Food Lion Feeds center, we are making a significant and long-term commitment to helping the food bank expand its capabilities to offer fresher, healthier food to those in our community who are struggling with hunger."

"Second Harvest and Food Lion have served the Charlotte community together for more than 25 years, and I'm thrilled our strong partnership will continue through the opening of the Food Lion Feeds Center, said Kay Carter, chief executive officer of Second Harvest Food Bank of Metrolina. "Food Lion's associates are truly dedicated to making sure those who are hungry don't have to make tough choices, whether it's providing a fresh, healthy meal on the table or groceries in the pantry."

Serving 10 million customers each week at nearly 1,100 locations in 10 states, Food Lion was founded in 1957 and still calls Salisbury, N.C., its hometown. Through Food Lion Feeds, the company will donate 500 million meals to individuals and families in need by the end of 2020.
