

Food Lion Recalls Limes from Select Stores

August 10, 2020

SALISBURY, N.C. – Food Lion is announcing that they are recalling select limes from some stores after being notified by its supplier that they could have possibly come in contact with Listeria. The items impacted include limes sold in two-pound bags and Nature's Promise Organic Limes sold in one-pound bags.

This recall impacts two-pound bag limes and one-pound bag Nature's Promise Organic Limes sold between July 7 – Aug. 7. The affected items were sold at select Food Lion stores in the produce section. A list of stores where these items were sold can be viewed here.

Food Lion has removed all affected product from its shelves and urges customers to return the product to their local store for a full refund. Customers may also contact Food Lion's Customer Support Center at 1-800-210-9569.

About Food Lion

Food Lion, based in Salisbury, N.C., since 1957, has more than 1,000 stores in 10 Southeastern and Mid-Atlantic states and employs more than 77,000 associates. By leveraging its longstanding heritage of low prices and convenient locations, Food Lion is working to own the easiest full shop grocery experience in the Southeast, anchored by a strong commitment to affordability, freshness and the communities it serves. Through Food Lion Feeds, the company has donated more than 500 million meals to individuals and families since 2014, and has committed to donate 1 billion more meals by 2025. Food Lion is a company of Ahold Delhaize USA, the U.S. division of Zaandam-based Ahold Delhaize. For more information, visit www.foodlion.com.